

The SPY II

Portable, Covert, Versatile

The Spy II is a two zone alarm system with two user recorded voice messages. Using wireless, battery powered sensors (including PIR motion detectors, magnetic door contacts, panic buttons, and tilt sensors) the Spy II will transmit the appropriate user recorded voice message via radio. Message 2 can be optionally transmitted over a wireless or hard-wired external speaker. The direct messages provide immediate response capability without the need to process an alarm through a dispatch center. Battery power allows up to 500 hours of operation with overnight recharge capability. The Spy II can also be used continuously on standard AC power without damaging the battery. The size and weight of the Spy II (9.5" x 7.5" x 3.5", 6 lbs) allow the true portability and flexibility needed in covert operations.
